New Brunswick Democratic Organization will meet with prospective candidates for seats on City Council

New Brunswick, NJ – Chairman TK Shamy announced today that the New Brunswick Democratic Organization (NBDO) will screen prospective candidates for City Council seats in this year's June 5, 2012 primary election.

Shamy invited qualified Democrats to forward their resume along with a letter expressing interest directly to him via e-mail at tkshamy@nbdems.org or to call him with questions at 732-828-7700. Shamy asked those interested in participating in the screening process to reply by Sunday, March 18.

Council President Robert Recine and Councilman Jimmie L. Cook, Jr. made it public yesterday they will not seek another term after 16 years of public service. Councilwoman Elizabeth S. Garlatti, who is also up for reelection this year, announced she will seek another term.
